

Fay Biccard Glick Neighborhood Center
2990 W. 71st St.
Indianapolis, IN 46268

Dear Employer/Community Partner,

My name is Tiffany Linza and I am the Workforce Development Coach at Fay Biccard Glick Neighborhood Center (FBGNC).

My role as the Workforce Development Coach is to assist residents in Pike and Washington Townships towards upward movements in their employment, whether it is getting help with a resume, interviewing skills, overcoming life barriers to current/future employment, or getting enrolled in a certification or higher education program or degree, to name a few of our services. Our goal at FBGNC is to use a family approach for each client we serve, providing proper resources and services that fit the needs of the family towards better family outcomes, better workers, and happier families.

My role equally includes collaborating with employers and adult education organizations to help disseminate sustainable employment and educational opportunities in the community. We look for employers who offer a minimum of $15 per hour 'workable' wage for our clients and target employers who offer livable wages of $18.20 + health benefits or at least $21.90 per hour. Partnering in on-site and off-site training and certifications is another service we provide to employers in our service area, as well as Employer/Community Partner Spotlights and Job Fairs towards assisting employers in filling positions with quality candidates.

Whether for a specific employee, a group of employees or your future employees, I would love to partner with your organization. Please reach out to me to schedule a brief introductory phone call or in-person meeting.

Best Regards,

Tiffany Linza
tlinza@fbgncenter.org
317/293-2600, ext. 105